

LETTER

TOTHE

INHABITANTS

OFTHE

PROVINCE

O P

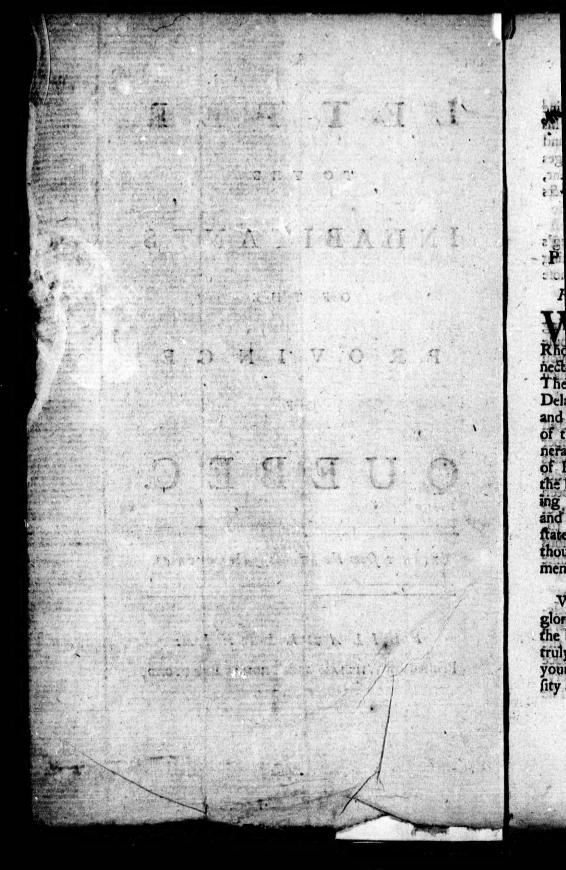

QUEBE'C.

EXTRACT from the Minutes of the Congram.

PHILADELPHIA:

Printed by William and Thomas Bradrons, Officer, 1774.

DIPLEME

OFTHE Therese hopes were deplaced by the King's

PROVINCE OF QUEBECA the public faithfur your old enjoyment of those

Friends and Fellow-Subjects,

IN I E, the DELEGATES of the Colonies of New-Hampshire, Massachusetts-Bay; Rhode-Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, New-York, New-Jerley, Pennsylvania, The Counties of Newcastle Kent and Sussex on Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North-Carolina and South-Carolina, deputed by the inhabitants of the faid Colonies, to represent them in a General Congress at Philadelphia, in the province of Pennsylvania, to consult together concerning the best methods to obtain redress of our afflicting grievances, having accordingly affembled. and taken into our most serious consideration the state of public affairs on this continent, have thought proper to address your province, as a member therein deeply interested.

WHEN the fortune of war, after a gallant and glorious resistance, had incorporated you with the body of English subjects, we rejoiced in the truly valuable addition, both on our own and your account; expecting, as courage and generofity are naturally united, our brave enemies would become advanta & s.

become our hearty friends, and that the Divine Being would bless to you the dispensations of his over-ruling providence, by securing to you and your latest posterity the inestimable advantages of a free English constitution of government, which it is the privilege of all English subjects to enjoy.

THESE hopes were confirmed by the King's proclamation, iffued in the year 1763, plighting the public faith for your full enjoyment of those advantages.

SHILL

LITTLE did we imagine that any succeeding Ministers would so audaciously and cruelly abuse the royal authority, as to with-hold from you the fruition of the irrevocable rights, to which you were thus justly entitled.

Bur fince we have lived to see the unexpected time, when Ministers of this flagitious temper have dared to violate the most facred compacts and obligations, and as you, educated under another form of government, have artfully been kept from discovering the unspeakable worth of that form you are now undoubtedly entitled to, we esteem it our duty, for the weighty reasons herein after mentioned, to explain to you some of its most important branches.

"In every human fociety," fays the celebrated Marquis Beccaria, "there is an effort, continually tending to confer on one part the heighth of power and happiness, and to reduce the other to the extreme of weakness and milery.

The

and for

of fia

fto

mo

to 15 gli

tio

tin

nat

the

ryi

gr

the m fel

DIE

18 pr

the

leg

The intent of good laws is to oppose this effort, and to diffuse their influence universally and equally."

Divine

of his

u and

ntages

ment,

bjects

King's

ghting

those

eeding

abule

m you

which

pected

temper

mpacts

under y been orth of

ed to,

lome

effort.

t the reduce nifery.

The

RULERS, stimulated by this pernicious "effort," and subjects, animated by the just "intent of oppoling good laws against it," have occafioned that vast variety of events, that fill the histories of so many nations. All these histories demonstrate the truth of this simple position, that to live by the will of one man, or sett of men, is the production of misery to all men.

On the solid foundation of this principle, Englishmen reared up the fabrick of their constitution with such a strength, as for ages to defy time, tyranny, treachery, internal and foreign wars: And, as an illustrious author of your nation, hereaster mentioned, observes,—" They gave the people of their Colonies the form of their own government, and this government carrying prosperity along with it, they have grown great nations in the forests they were sent to juhabit."

In this form, the first grand right is, that of the people having a share in their own government, by their representatives, chose by themselves, and in consequence of being rule by lows which they themselves approve, not by edits of mes over whom they have no controus. This is a bulwark surrounding and defending their property, which by their honest cares and labours they have acquired, so that no portions of it can legally be taken from them, but with their own

^{*} Montesquieu.

full and free consent, when they in their judgement deem it just and necessary to give them for public services, and precisely direct the easiest, cheapest, and most equal methods, in which they shall be collected.

The influence of this right extends still farther. If money is wanted by Rulers who have in any manner oppressed the people, they may retain it, until their grievances are redressed; and thus peaceably procure relief, without trusting to despised petitions, or disturbing the public tranquility.

THE next great right is, that of trial by jury, This provides, that neither life, liberty nor property can be taken from the possessor, until twelve of his unexceptionable countrymen and peers, of his vicinage, who from that neighbourhood may reasonably be supposed to be acquainted with his character, and the characters of the witnesses, upon a fair trial, and full enquiry, face to face, in open Court, before as many of the people as chuse to attend, shall pass their fentence upon oath against him; a fentence that cannot injure him, without injuring their own reputation, and probably their interest also; as the question may turn on points, that, in some degree, concern the general welfare; and if it does not, their verdict may form a precedent, that, on a fimilar trial of their own, may militate against themselves.

ANOTHER right relates merely to the liberty of the person. If a subject is seized and imprifoned lon by wri wh prointe

the opposite form

aviti

free continued in the c

'nou

men all fron inch fron and

ple

foned, tho by order of Government, he may, by virtue of this right, immediately obtain a writ, termed a Habeas Corpus, from a Judge, whose sworn duty it is to grant it, and thereupon procure any illegal restraint to be quickly enquired into and redressed.

udg

o for fieft.

hich

not thet.

ADY

in it,

thus

o de-

efan-

jury2

pro-

until

and

pour-

aint-

f the face

fthe

fen-

that

own

is the de

does

ainft

nprioned A FOURTH right is, that of holding lands by the tenure of easy rents, and not by rigorous and oppressive services, frequently forcing the possible services and their business, to perform what ought to be done, in all well regulated states, by men hired for the purpose.

or algoreth engine net, qu

The last right we shall mention, regards the freedom of the press. The importance of this consists, besides the advancement of truth, science, morality, and arts in general, in its disfusion of liberal sentiments on the administration of Government, its ready communication of thoughts between subjects, and its consequential promotion of union among them, whereby oppressive officers are shamed or intimidated into more homourable and just modes of conducting affairs.

These are the invaluable rights, that form a confiderable part of our mild system of government; that, sending its equitable energy through all ranks and classes of men, defends the poor from the rich, the weak from the powerful, the industrious from the rapacious, the peaceable from the violent, the tenants from the lords, and all from their superiors.

integrates done in a private of These are the rights, without which a people cannot be free and happy, and under the protecting and encouraging influence of which, these Colonies have hitherto so amazingly flourished and increased. These are the rights a profligate Ministry are now striving, by force of arms, to ravish from us, and which we are, with one mind, resolved never to resign but with our lives.

reli

DOV

to

Ha

me

can

ove

tity

tak

law

Col

mo

ano

has

the

pro

and

the

call

of

you

you

any of #

lic b

you

deg

hon

cred

diar

affa

pilir

whe

you

of simple residues to make an advice resume for THESE are the rights you are entitled to, and ought at this moment in perfection to exercise. And what is offered to you by the late Act of Parliament in their place? Liberty of confcience is your religion? No. God gave it to you; and the temporal powers with which you have been and are connected, firmly stipulated for your enjoyment of it. If laws, divine and human, could fecure it against the despotic caprices of wicked men, it was secured before. Are the French laws in civil cases restored? It seems fo. But observe the cautious kindness of the Minifiers, who pretend to be your benefactors. The words of the statute are---that those " laws shall be the rule, until they shall be varied or altered by any ordinances of the Governor and Council." Is the " certainty and lenity of the criminal law of England, and its benefits and advantages." commended in the faid flatute, and faid to " have been fenfibly felt by you," fecured to you and your descendants? No. They too are tubjected to arbitrary " alterations" by the Governor and Council; and a power is expresly referved of appointing " fuch Courts of criminal, civil and ecclefiastical jurisdiction, as shall be thought proper." Such is the precarious tenure of mere will, by which you hold your lives and Alle San Charles of the religion.

with th our , and tercife. Act of fcience yous have nd huaprices Are the ems fo. Mini-. The ws shall alsered uncil." mal law rages," red to too are he Goxprelly crimishall be tenure ves and cligion.

hich, flou-

thts a rce of

The Crown and its Ministers are impowered, as far as they could be by Parliament, to establish even the Inquisition itself among you. Have you an Assembly composed of worthy men, elected by yourfelves, and in whom you can confide, to make laws for you, to watch over your welfare, and to direct in what quantity, and in what manner, your money shall be taken from you? No. The power of making laws for you is lodged in the Governor and Council, all of them dependent upon, and removable at the pleasure of a Minister. Besides, another late statute, made without your consent, has subjected you to the impositions of Excise, the horror of all free states; thus wresting your property from you by the mest odious of taxes, and laying open to infolent tax-gatherers, houses, the scenes of domestic peace and comfort, and called the castles of English subjects in the books of their law. And in the very act for altering your government, and intended to flatter you, you are not authorised to " affess, levy or apply a ny rates and taxes, but for the inferior purpofes of making roads, and creeting and repairing publie buildings, or for other local conveniences, within your respective towns and districts." Why this degrading distinction? Ought not the property honestly acquired by Canadians to be held as sacred as that of Englishmen? Have not Canadians sense enough to attend to any other public. affairs, than gathering stones from one place and piling them up in another? Unhappy people! who are not only injured, but infulted. Nay more !--- With fuch a superlative contempt of your understanding and spirit has an insolent Mirintry niftry prefumed to think of you, our respectable fellow-subjects, according to the information we have received, as firmly to perswade themselves that your gratitude, for the injuries and infults they have recently offered to you, will engage you to take up arms, and render yourselves the ridicule and deteftation of the world, by becoming tools, in their hands, to affift them in taking that freedom from us, which they hav reacherously denied to you; the unavoidable confequence of which attempt, if fuccessful, would be the extinction of all hopes of you or your posterity being ever restored to freedom: For adiocy itself cannot believe, that, when their drudgery is performed, they will treat you with less cruelty than they have us, who are of the fame blood with themselves,

WHAT would your countryman, the immortal Montesquieu, have said to fuel a plan of domination, as has been framed for 'ou? Hear his words, with an intenfenels of tho the fuited to the importance of the subject, --- a free state; every man, who is supposed a free agent, ought to be concerned in his own governme t: Therefore the legislative should reside in the shole body of the people, or their representative "---" The political liberty of the subject is a tranquillity of mind, arifing from the opinion each person has of his safety. In order to have this liberty, it is requifite the government be fo constituted, as that one man need not be afraid of another. When the power of making laws, and the power of executing them, are united in the same person, or in the same body of Magistrates, there can be no liberty ;

löbe fan law

certand beri

por bein

whe

pover pover decident production decident deciden

But exe

ta .

onl

fame Monarch or Senate should enast tyrannical laws, to execute them in a tyrannical manner."

ectable

tion we

infults

engage ves the

becom-

taking reacheconfe-

would

r your

: For

n their

ou with

of the m.mor-

of do-

ear his ted to e state:

ought

erefore

ody of

The

llity of

has of t is re-

as that

When

of ex-

on, or

n be no iberty ; "The power of judging should be exercised by persons taken from the body of the people, at certain times of the year, and pursuant to a form and manner prescribed by law. There is no liberty, if the power of judging be not separated from the legislative and executive powers."

which may be useful, but is often dangerous."—
"The enjoyment of liberty, and even its support and preservation, consists in every man's being allowed to speak his thoughts, and lay open his sentiments.

Apply these decisive maxims, fanctified by the authority of a name which all Europe reweres, to your own state. You have a Governor, it may be urged, vested with the executive powers, or the powers of administration. him, and in your Council, is lodged the power of making laws. You have Judges, who are to decide every cause affecting your lives, liberty or property. Here is, indeed, an appearance of the several powers being separated and distributed into different hands, for checks one upon another, the only effectual mode ever invented by the wit of men, to promote their freedom and prosperity. But scorning to be illuded by a tinsel'd outlide, and exerting the natural fagacity of Frenchmen, examine the specious device, and you will find it, to use an expression of holy writ, " a whitest fepulpulchre," for burying your lives, liberty and property.

Your Judges, and your Legislative Council, as it is called, are dependant on your Governor, and be is dependant on the fervant of the Crown in Great-Britain. The legislative, executive and judging powers are all moved by the nods of a Privileges and immunities last no When he frowns, their longer than his smiles. Such a treacherous ingefeeble forms dissolve. nuity has been exerted in drawing up the code lately offered you, that every fentence, beginning with a benevolent pretension, concludes with a destructive power; and the substance of the whole, divested of its smooth words, is---that the Crown and its Ministers shall be as absolute throughout your extended province, as the despots of Asia or Africa. What can protest your property from taxing edicts, and the repairs of necessitous and cruel masters? your persons from Letters de Cachet, goals, dungeons, and oppreffive fervices? your lives and general liberty from arbitrary and unfeeling rulers? We defy you, casting your view upon every side, to discover a fingle circumstance, promising from any quarter the faintest hope of liberty to you or your posterity, but from an entire adoption into the union of these Colonies.

What advice would the truly great man before mentioned, that advocate of freedom and humanity, give you, was he now living, and knew that we, your numerous and powerful neighbours, animated by a just love of our invaded yadeo of af
every your rights
us th
from Intene
rank cuftor
make

W se Sie viden liberty not o to the fello vince and I Ame terate rouse Scoti wanti of un theirs their you. inevi rit to

vanta

ty and

Council, vernor, Crown ive and ds of a last no s, their is ingene code ginning with a of the s---that absolute the deyour acity of as from opprefy from you, cover a quarter poste-

m and g, and werful our inyaded waded rights, and united by the indiffoluble bands of affection and interest, called upon you, by every obligation of regard for yourselves and your children, as we now do, to join us in our righteous contest, to make common cause with us therein, and take a noble chance for emerging from a humiliating subjection under Governors, Intendants, and Military Tyrants, into the firm rank and condition of English freemen, whose custom it is, derived from their ancestors, to make those tremble, who dare to think of making them miserable?

Would not this be the purport of his address? Sieze the opportunity presented to you by Providence itself. You have been conquered into liberty, if you act as you ought. This work is You are a small people, compared not of man. to the who with open arms invite you into a fellowship. A moment's reflection should convince you which will be most for your interest and happiness, to have all the rest of North-America your unalterable friends, or your inveterate enemies. The injuries of Boston have roused and affociated every colony, from Nova-Scotia to Georgia. Your province is the only link wanting to compleat the bright and strong chain of union. Nature has joined your country to theirs. Do you join your political interests. For their own fakes, they never will defent or betray you. Be affured, that the happiness of a people inevitably depends on their liberty, and their ipirit to affert it. The value and extent of the advantages tendered to you are immense. Heaven grant grant you may not discover them to be blessings after they have bid you an eternal adieu."

We are too well acquainted with the liberality of sentiment distinguishing your nation, to imagine, that difference of religion will prejudice you against a hearty amity with us. You know, that the transcendant nature of freedom elevates those, who unite in her cause, above all such low minded infirmities. The Swiss Cantons surnish a memorable proof of this truth. Their union is composed of Roman Catholic and Protestant States, living in the utmost concord and peace with one another, and thereby enabled, ever since they bravely vindicated their freedom, to defy and deseat every tyrant that has invaded them.

Should there be any among you as there generally are in all focieties, who prefer the favours of Ministers, and their own private interests, to the welfare of their country, the temper of such selfish persons will render them incredibly active in opposing all public-spirited measures, from an expectation of being well rewarded for their fordid industry, by their superiors; but we doubt not you will be upon your guard against such men, and not facrifice the liberty and happiness of the whole Canadian people and their posterity, to gratify the avarice and ambition of individuals.

WE do not ask you, by this address, to commence acts of hostility against the government of our common Sovereign. We only invite you to cor to fuf by inf instru to uni the go mente endear order fubmit not be your f puties, Congr vour p held a 1775.

IN fifth o day, i unanin fider t alterin violati invited has no the na memb ftances lasting lutary mentic have a

his M e bleffings u.''

liberality
to imaprejudice
ou know, n elevates
fuch low ans furnish heir union
Protestant
and peace
led, ever edom, to s invaded

as there ier the favate intehe temper incredibly measures, arded for ; but we rd against and hapand their hbition of

to comvernnient ivite you to confult your own glory and welfare, and not to fuffer yourselves to be inveigled or intimidated by infamous Ministers To far, as to become the instruments of their cruelty and despotism, but to unite with us in one focial compact, formed on the generous principles of equal liberty, and cemented by fuch an exchange of beneficial and endearing offices as to render it perpetual. order to complete this highly defirable union, we fubmit it to your confideration, whether it may not be expedient for you to meet together in your feveral towns and districts, and elect Deputies, who afterwards meeting in a provincial Congress, may chuse Delegates, to represent your province in the continental Congress to be held at Philadelphia on the tenth day of May, 1775.

In this present Congress, beginning on the fifth of the last month, and continued to this day, it has been, with universal pleasure and an unanimous vote, refolved, That we should confider the violation of your rights, by the act for altering the government of your province, as a violation of our own, and that you should be invited to accede to our confederation, which has no other objects than the perfect fecurity of the natural and civil rights of all the constituent members, according to their respective circumstances, and the preservation of a happy and lasting connection with Great-Britain, on the falutary and constitutional principles herein before For effecting these purposes, we mentioned. have addressed an humble and loyal petition to his Majesty, praying relief of our and your griev-prisvances; and, have affociated to ftop all maprocessions from Great-Britain and Ireland, after the first day of December, and all exportations to those Kingdoms and the West-Indies, after the tenth day of next September, unless the faid grievances are redreffed.

THAT Almighty God may incline your minds to approve our equitable and necessary measures. to add yourselves to us, to put your fate, whenever you suffer injuries which you are determined to oppose, not on the small influence of your fingle province, but on the confolidated powers of North-America, and may grant to our joint exertions an event as happy as our cause is just, is the fervent prayer of us, your fincere and affectionate friends and fellow-fubiects.

By order of the Congres

HENRY MIDDERTON, Prefident restablished the color of making sold and a second second second

Mary profession and the state of the state o ta Labora u sa professione de la carte de la companya de la companya de la companya de la companya de la compa with the carden with a larger provide Annual to the state of the same of the same of ever his to determine a

October 26, 1774 stop all ina-cland, after exportations ndies, after less the faid your minds y measures, fate, whene determinnce of your sted powers to our joint sufe is just, sere and afeficient.

Desirati io em sico Seconosio